Seven Beliefs for Mental Wellness (Part 6)

Seventh, Paul has this to say, "Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do" (4:9). When we have done everything that we need to do mentally to prepare ourselves for Christian service, we must make application. Paul says that his teaching and example constitute an example for us as well. If we are looking for ways to behave, let us look to the example that Paul left as he followed Christ in his life (1 Corinthians 11:1). We have half the book of Acts to let us know how Paul behaved as well as many of his epistles in which we find great teaching regarding how to live the Christian life. This is where the proverbial rubber meets the road. Again, while modern psychology can suggest a course of behavior, it cannot suggest a lifestyle that will so thoroughly meet our needs as that which we find within the gospel of Christ (2 Peter 1:3).

The grand conclusion to these seven steps of mental health is found in the words, "and the God of peace shall be with you." This is yet in addition to the previous promise. Not only do we have the assurance of the peace of God being with us, but also we have the assurance of the God of peace being with us. Greater blessing can no Christian have than to know that the very God who made us and knows us better than we know ourselves will provide a life that is filled with contentment and peace as well as provide the companionship that we need to finish such a life in His service. May we ever seek to apply these seven steps in our time of need.

God bless you, and I love you.

JULY 10 GOD'S HOME

Join us on Sunday, July 10th, at the New Boston Church of Christ for a mini lectureship.

The Bible gives us a very clear purpose for the home and for the members that make up the home. It is God's desire that we fulfill that purpose in our lives as His creation. Everyone wants fulfilling relationships that bring joy and peace to our lives, especially in our homes. Doing things God's way will accomplish those results and make our homes the kind of places where everyone will want to be. Come learn more about how to love God and love your neighbors that are closest to you, your own family, in this series of lessons on God's home.

God bless you.
