Your Labor is Not in Vain In the Lord

Tuesday, January 17th, Robin Dunaway came to see me and brought some little books with him. I was excited to see that these had been completed. The project of making these books began in January of 2014. I wrote them in 2015 and finished them in 2016, and now they are finally printed in 2017, three years later! They are designed to be Bible class studies for teens, but may be used for more than just that. Each one has 13 studies, making them suitable for quarterly teaching. They are on a variety of topics: Evangelism, Bible Characters, Human Suffering, and Walking with Jesus.

It is nice to see our labors come to fruition. Whether we are writing Bible class material, coaching football, teaching elementary school, or working for the government, we like to see our goals and objectives achieved, and it is satisfying to see them achieved. One of God's great promises to us as Christians is that our labor is not in vain in the Lord (1 Corinthians 15:58). Because of this, we can be encouraged to keep up the good work and continue to fight the good fight of faith every day. God is able to use our efforts to serve Him to His honor and glory and for the furthering of His kingdom. The only thing that we must do is try, and the only failure is not trying at all. Let's not be like the one-talent man who went and buried his talent in the ground. Instead, let's take what God has given us and use it every day. Doing this will truly honor God and His Son, Jesus Christ, in our lives.

God bless you, and I love you. Kevin Cauley

Another Look at God

"Come, behold the works of the LORD, Who has wrought desolations in the earth. He makes wars to cease to the end of the earth; He breaks the bow and cuts the spear in two; He burns the chariots with fire. "Cease striving and know that I am God; I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth." The LORD of hosts is with us; The God of Jacob is our stronghold." Selah (Psalm 46:8-11).

Who is God? He is our salvation. No one can save us from our sins and mistakes but God. He is our only Savior. Anyone other than God who claims that he can save us is the worst type of fraud. He is our offense. He shows us how to live in this world. We cannot figure it all out; so He lends us His almighty counsel and truth and gives us internal strength. He is our defense. He protects us from enemies without and within. He stills the violent storm on the outside and quiets our raging fears on the inside. He is our present help. He is always available and accessible. He is continually near, ready, and able to provide the strength and wisdom we need. He is our peace. The end result of all this is that He makes, gives, and sustains our peace. Serenity can be ours even when the whole world is falling apart. We are hidden in God through Christ. God was here when nothing existed, and He will be here when everything has passed away.

Key Thought: God, then, is our all in all. With Him we have everything; without Him, we have nothing.

TFT Daily Devotionals Using the Psalms of the Old Testament Selections and Applications by Eddie Cloer

J.L. & Juanice Foster are happy to announce the birth of their great-grandson, Vincent Kye Watkins. He was born @ 3:19 PM on 1/19/17, weighing in at 8 lbs. and 14 ounces. Congratulations to all.

If you would like to host a devotion for the youth group one month, please talk to Scott or Shara Hobson.

It is with great sadness to let you know that for her safety and welfare, Janie Boswell will be attending the Westside Church of Christ in Texarkana. She will be greatly missed by all.
