Honoring our Mothers

“Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. ‘Honor your father and mother,’ which is the first commandment with promise: ‘that it may be well with you and you may live long on the earth’” (Ephesians 6:1-3). The command “honor your father and mother” was one of the Ten Commandments given by God (Exodus 20:12). It includes both the concepts of obedience of children and caring for wizened parents. Jesus made this latter point in Mark 7:9-13. The Pharisees thought that by giving their money to the temple, they would be excused from taking care of their parents. They were wrong. Jesus taught that the commandment applied just as much to our elderly parents.

On mothers’ day, we show respect for our mothers by praising their role as child bearers. For those who have reared children, we acknowledge their dedication and sacrifices, but mothers are not perfect. Even the most saintly sins. The first mother brought sin into the world, yet she was honored with the title: the mother of all living (Genesis 3:20). Jesus died for his own mother’s sins, but He honored her by appointing the apostle John as her guardian (John 19:26-27). We should honor our mothers despite their faults; Jesus certainly did.

Some are fortunate to have their mothers nearby where they are available to have an everyday relationship. Other mothers are not so near and are celebrated when opportunity arises. Yet other mothers have passed on and are no longer with us, but their life and memories may yet be honored. God’s command to honor our father and mother, however, isn’t about superficialities, but a manner of living that extends to every day of the week. May God bless our mothers, and may our mothers be godly.

God bless you and I love you.

Paul's Journeys

Attendance was lower than usual, but the enthusiasm was high as we gathered for the final session of Learning to Serve. Gavin did a great job leading the singing. J.J. Hendrix recounted the story of Paul's conversion and challenged us to be brave enough to share the gospel with others. During the craft session, each child made a card for his/her mother before turning a sponge, stick and cardboard into a floating boat. They were allowed to test the seaworthiness of their creation in a kiddie pool full of water and like Paul, some of them experienced a ship wreck, but all arrived at the shore safely. The Biblical facts were reinforced by watching the animated version of Paul's experiences and a session of review and application with Shara and Sommer Hobson.

Kevin Cauley and Jim Patterson grilled hamburgers while the usual kitchen crew assembled all the fixings. Everyone enjoyed sharing the meal together.

The children were Devin, Zain, Ellie, Sammy, Gavin, Jordan, and Drake. Our helpers were Logan and Sawyer. Other adult helpers were MaryLynn Cauley, Sylvia Williams, Jimmie Thomas, Stephanie Wages, Janiece Richardson, Ernest Shelton, Wilma Alexander, Virginia Parrish, Janie Martin, and Suzette Tyndell. Special supportive visitors were Clara Inman, Eddie Cauley, Marie Robertson, Doug Wages, Scott Hobson, and Johnny Thomas. There may have been others who came. You were welcome and appreciated also.

Learning to Serve targets children who are four year old through fourth grade. We want to teach this very receptive age group Bible facts, God's love for them, and stories of Bible heroes to emulate.

They may never know or notice that a lot of the adults who provide the program are heroes themselves. I won't name names, but want them to know that their dedication and commitment are appreciated. They are Christians who come when they don't feel well, serve when they are tired, and schedule their other activities around Learning to Serve. We are thankful for you.

Please pray for the family of our Myranda Finley, as she was killed in an automobile accident. She was just about to graduate high school. She was such a sweet girl with a bright future. I'm sure her sister, Tabitha, is in need of much love and prayer.
