A Day of Remembrance

Tomorrow, Monday, May 27th, 2019, we celebrate the annual Memorial Day holiday. It is a time when most people get together to kick off summer with outdoor cookouts and relaxation. The holiday is designed, however, for us to remember those who have given their lives in military service to our country. We remember that freedom is not free; it cost the blood of men and women who were willing to give up their lives in place of ours for the defense of our nation. It is good to remember such sacrifices because it helps us recognize the dependence we have on other people for our safety. We remember to honor those who have fallen. We remember to learn the value of freedom.

While we enjoy physical well-being and freedom because of the sacrifices of others, our spiritual well-being and freedom are far more important. One may be physically well and free, but spiritually sick and enslaved. Like physical wellness and freedom, there was One who died so that we might be spiritually well and free. His name was Jesus, and we memorialize Him every first day of the week when we partake of the Lord's Supper. Physical wellness and freedom will end one day. However, that does not mean that we can't have spiritual well-being and freedom forever; we can! How is this possible? When we put our faith and trust in Jesus and His plan for our salvation and faithfulness, He promises us things that are much more valuable: peace, love, joy, goodness, mercy, grace, faith. Here is true well-being and freedom, because we are not sick with sin and enslaved by its consequences. Jesus said, "Therefore if the Son makes you free, you shall be free indeed" (John 8:36).

God bless you, and I love you.
Kevin Cauley

Learning To Serve, The End

It started nearly nineteen years ago in December when we let a group of children bake cookies, assemble care packages and deliver them to selected members of the congregation. It ended Sunday afternoon with a group of children learning that if God can use five animals to accomplish his purposes, He can certainly use us if we are willing to obey His will. There were a lot of different experiences between the beginning and the end and lots of volunteers and work and prayers. We experienced the providence of God many times because we always had "enough" whether it was people, money, food or time.

The children who attended the last session were Zain, Jaysen, Drake, Baylee, Sabrina, Ellie, McKinnon, Sammy and Kenny. Our teen helpers really put forth a lot of effort to bring the animals to life. Marli Thomas with the help of Madison and Jimmy Thomas created the lions den and explained why the lions did not eat Daniel. Logan Wages and his mom Stephanie turned a classroom into the vineyard path where God let Baalam's donkey talk to him. Danielle and Blake Tyndell and Shara Hopson converted their classroom into the belly of the fish that swallowed Jonah. The children stepped through an open mouth with teeth and were invited to sit on the fish's tongue while Blake recounted the story of Jonah. Special effects included fish swimming overhead, light streaming through the red tinted window and an open can of sardines for that fishy smell! Sawyer Hopson spoke for the colt that Jesus rode into Jerusalem. Sommer Hobson and Marli impersonated the ravens that fed Elijah by the brook. Gavin Cauley did an excellent job leading singing and Eddie Cauley was available to help as needed. Scott Hobson served as the narrator making sure everyone understood the biblical background of each presentation. Other helpers were Sylvia Williams, Mary Lynn Cauley, Suzette Tyndell, Virginia Parrish, Peggy Hooten, Wilma Alexander and Janiece Richardson.

Kevin Cauley and Jim Patterson grilled hamburgers that were enjoyed by the entire group and a few other guests.

Later, our children will be invited to participate in the Leadership Training for Christ program so we will be transitioning from one good activity to another good activity. As a congregation there will be many opportunities for you to continue to support our youth.

Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord.
