Accessing God through Jesus

In Revelation 4:8, the four living creatures cry out, "Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God, the Almighty, who was and who is and who is to come." God is holy; He is above and beyond all created things. He is unknowable unless He reveals Himself to us. "For who among men knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of the man, which is in him? even so the things of God none knoweth, save the Spirit of God" (1 Corinthians 2:11). No created thing has direct access to God. "No man has seen God at any time" (John 1:18, 1 John 4:12). Paul affirms this also in 1 Timothy 6:16: "who only hath immortality, dwelling in light unapproachable; whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honor and power eternal. Amen."

This was one of Job's many problems. He begged for access to God, but never got what he desired. When God showed up, it was not to give Job access, but a stinging rebuke. Job said, "Wherefore I abhor myself, And repent in dust and ashes" (Job 42:6). Job remained cut off from what He was ultimately seeking from God. He did not find a mediator that could intervene on His behalf before God (Job 9:33).

Job's problem is all of humanity's problem. Who may approach God? Thank God for Jesus! He resolves this problem by being both God and man. John wrote further in John 1:18, "the only begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him." Jesus literally interprets who God is for us so that we may know and access Him. "For through Him we both have our access by one Spirit unto the Father." (Ephesians 2:18). What a great blessing! If you pray to God today, thank Jesus.

God bless you, and I love you.

Don't Ever Belittle the Church, part 3—conclusion J.C. Choate

But nothing about the corruption of organized religion is "funny" when you stop to realize that all of the people in religious error will be lost because they have added to God's word or they have subtracted from it (Revelation 22:18, 19). And they will cause countless others to be lost because their followers have been deceived by their false teachings. Jesus, Himself, warned in Matthew 7:21-23, "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of My Father in heaven. Many will say to Me in that day, 'Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Your name, cast out demons in Your name, and done many wonders in Your name?' And then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness!'"

Those who would find fault with the Lord and His church, and with anything that He teaches, will live to regret it — actually, they will die to regret it — and there is nothing funny about that.

Rejoicings

★ Our hearts are glad on many scores today, as we have been largely ★ spared the ravages of the pandemic. We rejoice that many of our members
★ and loved ones have been able to recover from the disease. We thank God for
★ the levels of understanding and care that have been given them during this difficult time.

God demonstrates His love and care for people yet again. While He sends rain upon the just and the unjust, it is also abundantly clear to the faithful that "the effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." I know for a fact: it is wonderful to have faithful brethren pray for us in our trials and problems.

It is worthwhile, helpful, therapeutic even, to utter our thanksgivings to God in prayer. These should follow hard on the heels of the blessings as we perceive them. I hope you are able to acknowledge all that God has done for you today. I hope also you will thank Him for his grace and mercy as you see them manifested in your life and relationship with Him in Christ.
